THE BILL PASSED

Lodge Philippine Measure Goes Through the Senate Yesterday.

All Amendments Were Rejected by the Majority—The Vote was 48 to 30.

CANAL BILL TAKEN UP TODAY

Washington, June 4—Shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the senate passed the Lodge Philippine government bill by a vote of 48 to 30. Three Republicans, Messrs. Hoar of Massachusetts, Mason of Illinois and Wellington of Maryland voted against the measure, and one Democrat, Mr. McLaurin of South Carolina, voted for it. All amendments offered by the minority were rejected.

The debate on the measure has been in progress seven weeks and two days. Just at the close of the discussion yesterday a sharp exchange occurred between Mr. Deltrich of Nebraska and Mr. Patterson of Colorado, in the course of which the former reflected caustically upon the Colorado senator. He was called to order, his remarks were read and he was declared to have been out of order in uttering them. He withdrew his statement, thus ending the controversy.

After the passage of the Philippine bill the Nicaraguan canal bill was made the unfinished business and its consideration will begin today.

Mr. Quay of Pennsylvania, when the Philippine bill was brought up yesterday, offered an amendment providing that the duty on imports to the United States from the Philippines—products of the islands—shall be 50 per cent of the rate of duty charged on similar imports from other countries. The amendment was rejected, 19 to 56.

Amendments of the minority offered by Messrs. Patterson, Teller, Carmack, McLaurin of Mississippi and Onlereson in line with the arguments that they have made were all voted down.

The vote then was taken on the minority substitute, and it was rejected by a party vote, save Mr. Hoar and Mr. Wellington voted aye and Mr. Morgan and McLaurin of South Carolina voted no. The bill then was passed, 48 to 30.

The bill approves the action of the president in the creating of the Philippine commission and the offices of civil governor and vice governor of the islands, and authorizes the governor and vice governor to exercise the powers of government as directed by executive order. Future appointments of the governor or vice governor shall be made by the president, with the advice and consent of the senate. The bill of rights of the United States constitution are applied to the Philippine islands, with the exception of the right to bear arms and the right to a trial by jury.

The supreme court and other courts of the islands shall exercise jurisdiction as heretofore provided by the Philippine commission, and the justices of the supreme court shall be appointed by the president and the senate, the others by the civil government and the commission.

The action of the president of the United States in levying and collecting taxes is approved. All the inhabitants of the Philippines are deemed to be citizens of the Philippine Islands and entitled to the protection of the United States.

LED TO THE ALTAR

Marriage This Morning of Miss Mira Gould and Mr. Buck.

Bishop Dudley Performed the Ceremony at Grace Church—Murrin-Kelley Wedding in Brooklyn.

THE BRIDES POPULAR IN PADUCAH

An exceedingly pretty wedding was that of Miss Mira K. Gould and Mr. Leffert Lefferts Buck of New York city, this morning at 10 o'clock at Grace Episcopal church. The ceremony was witnessed by a large and representative crowd and the artistic summer costumes and many beautiful women added to the attractiveness of the scene. There was no attempt at any elaborate church decorations, in fact a charming simplicity characterized the occasion. The altar was banked with Ascension lilies and feathery asparagus, and made a most effective background.

The bride looked very lovely in a charming gown of white silk covered with chiffon and an over dress of lace, and carried bride roses. She entered with her brother, Mr. William T. Gould of Brooklyn, N. Y., and was preceded by the ushers, Mr. George Langstaff, Mr. T. J. Flennoy, Mr. J. D. Moequol, and Mr. William Bradshaw, Jr., and the attendants, who were her two nephews, Master Elbridge Palmer of the city, and Master William Gould, Jr., of Brooklyn, N. Y., and little Miss Mary Terry Burnett of Paducah, who carried the wedding prayer book. At the altar they were met by the groom and his best man, Mr. Mascoe Burnett of the city. The ceremony was impressively said by Bishop T. U. Dudley of Louisville. Miss Jessie Naan presided very delightfully at the organ.

As the bridal party left the church the small pages carried broad white ribbons down the center aisle, from the reserved seats to the door, which were held until the entire wedding party including the family and guests invited in the house had passed out. This feature was a very pretty and graceful one. The little maid of honor, who looked very charming in a white dress with pink ribbons, carried the bride's bouquet as they left the church. An informal reception followed the ceremony, at the beautiful Gould home which was artistically decorated for the occasion. Delightful refreshments of individual loaves and cake were served, and a number of friends and relatives were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck left at noon for the east, and will spend the summer in an historic old colonial mansion on the Hudson.

The marriage of Miss Nell Murrin, niece of Colonel John J. Dorian of this city to Mr. John Kelley of New York took place this morning at the church of the Sacred Heart, Brooklyn, N. Y., the bride's home, at 10 o'clock, and after a reception at the home of the bride's mother, the couple left for the Catskills on a bridal tour. Miss Murrin has made her home in Brooklyn for the past two years, and is a young lady of many attractions, and was one of the most popular in Paducah during her several years' residence here. Mr. Kelley is a promising young business man of New York, and the couple will reside in the latter place.

Miss Pearl Lancaster of Cairo and George B. Osgood of Chicago were married at Cairo last night, and the wedding was very elaborate. The ceremony was performed at the Presbyterian church. The bride is a religious belle of Cairo, is quite a fine singer and is well known in Paducah. The groom is a lumberman in Chicago.

THE STRIKE TROUBLE

Six Negroes, Two Perhaps Fatally Hurt at Chicago.

Hon. Michael Herbert Succeeds Lord Pauncifote at Washington as English Ambassador.

OTHER FLASHES FROM THE WIRE

MORE STRIKE TROUBLE IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, June 4—The disturbances attendant upon the packing house teamsters strike broke out afresh early today when a wagon belonging to former Alderman Diddleston, driven by non-union men, tried to land a load of hams and bacon at the station of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad. A crowd of toughs and sympathizers set upon the driver and overturning his wagon, stole the meat.

Then a pitched battle occurred between a crowd of negroes imported from St. Louis to take the places of the striking teamsters and toughs and striking teamsters at Forty-fifth street and Centre avenue in which six negroes were badly hurt, two perhaps mortally.

DIPLOMATIC CHANGES.

Washington, June 4—Two important changes were announced in diplomatic representation circles at Washington today. Hon. Michael Herbert succeeds the late Lord Pauncifote as British ambassador, and Senator De Ojeda succeeds the Duke of Arce as Spanish minister.

INDIANA DEMOCRATS.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 4—The Bryan and the anti-Bryan forces will lock horns in the Democratic state convention here today, and as the saying is, Bryan will get it where Katie wore the beads. The Hoosier Democrats have had enough of the defeat and disaster that trails around after the Bryan banner, and Mr. Bryan is sure to be knocked out.

AGAINST PACKING COMPANIES.

St. Louis, June 4—The supreme court of Jefferson City today announced that it had overruled the action of the packing companies to quash the information filed against them by the attorney general.

DEEDS.

A. H. Rapp and others deed to George M. Alexander, for $300, property on Fourth street.

CHIEF CLERK DEAD

Sudden Demise This Morning of Mr. Louis I. Baumgardner.

He Had Been Ill Only a Few Days—Chief Clerk in the Master Mechanics Office.

BEEN WITH THE ROAD TWELVE YEARS

A sudden death was that this morning of Chief Clerk Loets Baumgardner, of the master mechanics' office of the Illinois Central, at the Illinois Central hospital at 5 o'clock from peritonitis, after a brief illness.

Mr. Baumgardner left the office Friday, slightly ill, but his illness was not thought to be serious until last night, when he rapidly grew worse, and expired about 5 o'clock this morning. His death came as a great shock to his friends and acquaintances.

The deceased was one of the most popular of the railroad employees. He succeeded Mr. Charles G. Morris as chief clerk August 1 last, and came here from Clinton, Ill., having served as chief clerk in Master Mechanic Bennehan at that place. He resided at Twelfth and Monroe streets.

He had been with the Illinois Central for the past twelve years, and was one of its most industrious and valued employees.

His parents reside at Cherokee, Iowa, and were this morning notified of their son's sudden death.

Mr. Baumgardner leaves a wife and little daughter to mourn his loss, and his sad demise is generally regretted by the other employees of the road. It has not yet been decided what will be done with the remains.

INTERESTING SERVICE

AT CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH THIS EVENING.

Rev. J. O. Reid of the Cumberland Presbyterian church is conducting a series of Bible studies on the life of the Apostle Paul, followed by a twenty-minute lecture on the subject, at his prayer meeting services. The subject for this evening is "The First Six Years of Active Ministry." All members and friends are urged to attend and bring their Bibles. These studies are proving very entertaining and helpful, and should attract many.

CURFEW DID NOT RING

Whitesides Failed to Make His Speech on "Boodlesism."

The Authorities are Making it Hot for Him—Trials in the Police Court.

JUDGE SANDERS HAD A LONG SESSION

Jack Whitesides, the former saloon man who promised to make it hot for everybody in Paducah, failed to make his appearance at Ninth and Broadway last night to speak of "boodlesism" in Paducah. He had promised to address the public and hand out a hot article, but he was non est when the time came.

He was on hand in the police court this morning, however, when four cases against him for selling whiskey without a license and one for immorality, were called. The evidence was partially heard, and the cases left open until tomorrow. He cannot be convicted on the present charge unless more evidence is secured. The only evidence against him in the liquor cases is that of a young man named Quisen, who worked for him, and says that Whitesides owed him money and paid him in whiskey, after he had been refused a license by the council. The question for the court to decide is whether it would be considered selling liquor, in law.

In the immorality case there is the testimony of one man and the testimony to the contrary of Whitesides and the woman. The cases will be finished tomorrow.

H. H. Jones is the name of a carpenter charged with drawing a knife on his wife and running her out of the house. He was fined $20 and costs and put under a $300 bond to keep the peace.

John Hamell was arrested last night by Lieutenant Moore for carrying concealed a deadly weapon and was fined $25 and given ten days in jail. A disorderly conduct case against him was dismissed.

Carrie Tandy was fined $5 and costs for using insulting language.

Albert Smith was fined $1 and costs for a drunk and John McCallister $1 and costs for being drunk and disorderly.

The cases against Rufus Cross and Clarence Criss, colored boys, for stealing some tools was again left open. Cross will doubtless be held to answer.

Tobe Dennis, for being drunk and disorderly, was fined $5 and costs.

Mack McOlnre, colored, charged with beating up his daughter, was acquitted but recognized in the sum of $300 for his good behavior. It seems he chafed her for running away from home.

Miss Lucy Scott, who has been attending school at Bellhaven college in Jackson, Miss., returned home today at noon.

NEW SCHOOL TRUSTEE

Mr. E. W. Bockmon Elected to Succeed Mr. R. G. Terrell Last Night

The One Session Plan Was Ordered Discontinued by the Board—Good School Attendance.

WHAT THE SCHOOL BOARD DID

The school board held its regular meeting last night.

Superintendent C. B. Hatfield presented his monthly report showing an increase in attendance of 82 white pupils and decrease of 18 colored pupils over last month. The increase of tuition pupils has been great and this year the schools have over four times as many paid pupils as they had last year. The attendance during the past month was reported not damaged by the carnival confusion. Superintendent Hatfield also said that from correct figures he drew a very good comparison between the Covington and Paducah schools and the amount of money expended in the running expenses, salaries, etc.

Paducah with only two-thirds the attendance of Covington, expends for running expenses only one-third the money used in Covington. This all goes against the council's idea that too much is being spent by the schools. The work of the building committee was also complimented and commended. The one session idea which has been in effect for the past two weeks was reported successful and Superintendent Hatfield recommended that it be again tried the first six weeks of the opening of the next term. In speaking of vaccination he stated that on account of the vaccination law all pupils will have to be vaccinated before they enter school next season and all who have not undergone the operation should go to a physician and have the work performed now so that they can enter the school at the opening term without any confusion.

The treasurer's report showing $10,490.07 on hand May 1, disbursements $3,295.13, and balance on hand $5,264.84, was received and filed. Chairman Welle of the building committee reported all the improvements progressing and Chairman Gleaves of the examination committee stated that the committee had fixed the two days following the commencement exercises for the examination of teachers and the examinations will begin at 9 o'clock each morning.

It was moved that the one session idea be continued until the close of the term but after a lengthy discussion the motion was lost, Messrs. Lally and Welle being the only members voting for it. Chairman Mammen, of the sanitary committee, reported that the blank forms to be used in the physical examination of all applicants for teachers' certificates, in accordance with the rule adopted last year, were ready and moved that an investigation be made to ascertain if the city physician was the proper man to examine the applicants. The report and motion were adopted.

Secretary Sutherland of the committee appointed to draft resolutions of regret to the resignation of Mr. R. G. Terrell, reported the resolutions ready. They were read and ordered spread on the minutes of the proceedings.

Chairman Welle of the building committee reported on his visit to St. Louis and in his report recommended that the fan system for hot heating and furnishing cold air in the summer be adopted and that no more buildings smaller than six teen rooms be built.

Observationsat Random

Officer Emil Gourieux likes to tell of the time he cured Auditor Alex Kirkland of chills. He was then a bartender, and Auditor Kirkland was a merchant down on Second street. Mr. Kirkland often had chills, and Mr. Gourieux felt sorry for him. One day Mr. Kirkland entered the saloon, shaking like an aspen leaf, and asked for a drink of water. He never drank anything else, and Mr. Gourieux, seeing that he was having it out with another chill, said:

"I know you don't drink, but let me fix you up a drink that will cure that chill. I'll make it right, and will guarantee you will never have another."

"Well," finally consented the asthmatic merchant, whose sufferings were great enough to induce him to do most anything, "go ahead and I'll do it."

A lemonade glass was taken and filled with Scotch whiskey, a little stick gin, some hitters, wine and a few other things that brought it to the rim. A little cinnamon was sprinkled on and with a touch of hot water, the merchant was made to drink it down.

He returned to his office, and about an hour later Mr. Gourieux dropped in to see how his patient was getting. He found him unconscious, but that he had no chill. Auditor Kirkland admits that he has never had another chill to this day.

Clerk Adams of the Palmer, says that things go wrong oftener than they go otherwise, and Clerk Adams has rubbed up against things and people long enough to know. The other day he sent for some of his household goods and they were packed and shipped from Jacksonville, Ill., his former home. One piece was a large rack, with a fine mirror. It was carefully packed in order to afford the glass all necessary protection, and came in good shape. It stood the bumping and jolting and sudden stops and starts of the freight trains well, and escaped injury when it was loaded into and out of the car. It was loaded onto a wagon here and taken to his home, and just as it was being taken into the house the carefully tended mirror was demolished by a careless driver who accidentally struck something through it.

ELABORATE WEDDING.

A FRENCHMAN MARRIES A BELLE OF DETROIT.

Detroit, Mich., June 4.—Elaborate was the wedding of Miss Martha Palais and the Count Laurent de Champeaux, of Paris, last evening in the bishop's chapel on Washington avenue. The ceremony was witnessed by members of the family and very intimate friends only, but more than 500 invitations were issued for the reception held at the home of the bride's parents after the wedding ceremony. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Violet Palais, while the Count Louis de Champeaux was best man. Count and Countess de Champeaux will make their future home in Paris.

PENSION FOR GEN. GOMEZ.

NOMINATION OF MINISTER QUESADA HELD UP BY CUBAN SENATE.

Havana, June 4.—The house of representatives has voted to give General Maximo Gomez a pension of $6,000 per year.

The senate confirmed the vote of the house, fixing the salary of members of congress at $3,600 annually.

President Palma's nomination of Senator Quesada as Cuban minister to Washington is causing considerable difficulty in the senate, which has already held two sessions in secret on the nomination without coming to a decision. It is claimed that the matter is close, and that Senator Quesada's chance of success depends upon his personal influence with President Palma. Senator Trias is quoted as saying that he has no opinion for or against Senator Quesada, but his nomination should be confirmed, as he is the first minister to be nominated by President Palma. He also argued that Senator Quesada would be acceptable to the Washington government. The arguments used by Senator Sangulily, he said, were of a personal nature.

MURRAY GUARD.

FULTON'S MILITARY COMPANY TO BE RE-ORGANIZED.

There has been trouble in the Murray Guards, Fulton's military company, and it has been decided to re-organize. It is claimed that some of the members have displayed a disposition to retard its advancement, and these will doubtless be dropped.

The re-organization will take place June 11, and Captain Longmire of Frankfurt will be there on that date to assist in the work.

An entirely new set of officers will be chosen, and the company will be placed in good condition to participate in the state guard encampment.

NIGHT AND DAY.

WORK WILL BE PUSHED RAPIDLY BY THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL.

The Illinois Central is still pushing work on its Cairo division, but is not doing enough and will put on more men, as stated yesterday. There are now fully 200 at work in the county, and it is understood that a portable electric light plant will be erected at once and night forces put on to hasten the work.

BIG SHOOT AT CLEVELAND.

Cleveland, O., June 4.—Representatives of nearly fifty clubs are taking part in the eighteenth annual tournament of the Ohio Trap Shooters League, which began under auspicious conditions on the grounds of the Cleveland Gun club. The program covers three days and provides for twenty-seven open events in addition to the competition for the five special cups offered to members of the league.

COLORED K. OF P.

Murflet, June 4.—John Morton, W. B. Martin, U. G. Davis, Elijah Pullen, Perry McFadden, Kelley Avant and John Bishop, members of the Colored Knights of Pythias of Paducah, came out Monday night and instituted a colored lodge here with 43 members.

AGED MUSICIANS.

MOVE ON FOOT TO PROVIDE A HOME FOR THEM.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 4.—The question of establishing a national home for aged musicians is one of the principal matters before the seventh annual convention of the American Federation of Musicians here. It is proposed that the institution be built and maintained by a fund to be raised by means of concerts to be held throughout the country by the local unions of the federation. Reports show that the present membership of the organization exceeds 38,000 musicians. Joseph N. Weber called the convention to order today and Owen Miller of St. Louis acted as secretary. Boston is bidding for the next convention of the federation.

MUSIC FESTIVAL.

A BIG TIME IS BEING ENJOYED AT TOPEKA.

Topeka, Kan., June 4.—Music lovers are here from far and near to attend the Topeka musical festival. The advance sale indicates that the festival will be a great success financially as well as artistically. Kansas City, Lawrence, Holton and other cities have sent many representatives.

The program arranged for the three concerts is one that seldom has been surpassed in this part of the country. The Chicago Symphony orchestra has been engaged, together with several well known soloists, including Miss Helen Buckley, Miss Sae Herrington Furbeck, Holmes Cowper and Arthur Beresford. The principal feature of the festival, however, is the chorus of 200 voices which has been training for months past in anticipation of the event.

ANOTHER SAFE.

THIEVES VISIT HAMLETTSBURG AND BLOW A SAFE.

The safe blowers of Southern Illinois have appeared again and night before last visited the store of Samuel Vickers of Hamlettsburg, Ill., and covering the safe with piles of clothing to deaden the explosion, blew the safe and secured about $150. The burglary and safe cracking were not discovered until the store was opened several hours later. The only person awakened by it was a lady who thought it was thunder.

SAYS HE TRADED.

B. WHITLOCK, A HORSE TRADER, MAY PROVE HIMSELF INNOCENT.

Mayfield, June 4.—B. Whitlock, who was arrested here Sunday as a suspected horse thief, claims that he traded for the animal he is charged with stealing. He is a horse trader and upholsterer, and was on his way to Louisville when arrested. He is being held to await information from Ripley, Tenn., where the horse was stolen.

ELEVATING THE STAGE.

Every woman who chooses the stage as a serious profession, has, at some time, a dream of helping to elevate it. I need hardly say that her little part in this is simply to elevate her own standards, and to live up to them. She must remember that she cannot do this courageously and unfalteringly without influencing, in a small degree, but very surely, the future of the profession she loves. She need never accept the standards of the stage as she finds them, if she believes her own are higher.—Ellen Terry, in May "Success."

THOSE THREE LITTLE THOMPSONS

Business Matter That Came Near Breaking Up Happy Home.

"In my business I come in contact with all sorts of animal people from the ordinary snake charmer to the owner of a private menagerie," said a prominent New York snake and reptile man, whose name for the purposes of this story must be "Thompson." "Not long ago I presented the little alligators to a certain 'snake charmer' named Hedwig, who was one of my regular customers. I received a letter of thanks in return saying that once the little chaps were trained they would appear on theater programmes as the 'Three Thompsons,' named in my honor."

"Hedwig was a picturesque sort of snake charmer, the kind of woman, though homely and unattractive as a stone wall, whom a fellow could not well help mentioning even in one's house. I think I spoke altogether too much about Hedwig to begin with. To add to the fuel I have been obliged to meet her several times in a business way after her evening performances."

"One day I got a letter from Hedwig, and after reading it I innocently took it home. It came near breaking up my establishment and taking the roof off of the house. My wife found the letter and stood before me with flaming eye, reading between her teeth:

"The three little Thompsons are not at all well, and I think you had better come down to see us. Signed, 'blasted my wife with a contemptuous, drawn-out slur on the name, 'Hedwig'!"

"Imagine the rest."—New York Times.

NOVEL IDEA OF ART COLLECTOR

U.S. Certificate of Authorship from Each Artist for His Painting.

One of Philadelphia's collectors of modern paintings pursues an original and happy idea, which adds much to his gallery's value. He sends to the creator of each of his pictures—if the painter be living and if he be dead to some member of his family—a photograph of the work and across the face of the margin of the photograph the painter certifies in unblended ink the collector's request that he executed the picture of which the photograph is a copy. Usually, too, he tells where and in what year he painted it; he gives its name and he appends a little criticism of it, favorable or unfavorable, as the case may be.

Thus the collector has a beautiful and large Thaulow, a study of running water, and under the photograph of this picture Thaulow himself says he regards it as one of his best works. He also has a superb Jacque, showing cows, chickens, horses, figures and instruments of agriculture. Jacque's son writes of this work an admirable appreciation.

Such men as Gerome, Houguereau, Benjamin Constant, Cziza, Dagnaa, Bouveret, Schreyer, Hildway, Knight and many other, says the Philadelphia Record, certify and criticize in this way the works of theirs that the collection includes.

The towboat Oakland which was grounded a couple of days ago at Sewickley, is now entirely out of the water. It is owned by the firm of C. Jutte and Co., who wanted to place new boilers in the craft on reaching Pittsburg.

The low water has shut off all coal shipment at Pittsburg, but the slight rise allowed many steamboats to enter the harbor. There are almost 20,000,000 bushels of coal ready for shipment in the pools, and a boating stage is confidently expected this week. There is nothing to base it on, except the proverbial June rise, which is looked for every year. Rivermen believe that with a change of moon during the week plenty of rain will fall. It is alleged that the stock of coal in the south is very short.

MISSIONARY WORK

A LARGE ATTENDANCE AT THE CONFERENCE AT SYRACUSE.

Syracuse, N. Y., June 4.—Many well known missionary workers are in Syracuse for the seventy-sixth annual meeting of the Congregational Home Missionary society, which continues in session until Friday.

The present meeting is regarded as of more than the usual interest, as it is expected that before adjournment the differences between the central society and the thirteen state auxiliaries will have been definitely settled. According to opinions expressed by officials of the home society an adjustment of the differences is likely to be made in a manner that will be satisfactory to that body, in that it will leave to the society much of the executive power it formerly held and which was taken from it by the agreement of last spring. Officials of the society are hopeful because of its excellent financial condition. The fiscal year has been closed without deficit and the debt of the society, which amounted to more than $43,000 at the time of the last annual meeting, has been so reduced during the year that it is now less than $10,000.

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES APPOINTED FOR MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Last night the following officers and committees were appointed to act at the Woodman of the World memorial services Sunday the 8th at Oak Grove: Master of ceremonies, Frank Bennett; orator of the day, J. Wheeler Campbell; Captain (George) Lehnardt; council commander, Joe B. Flach; lieutenant, F. Roark; clerk, George Broadfoot; banker, Henry Lehnardt; escort, J. A. Callaway; sentry, John Lehnardt; watchman, O. W. Carver.

Choir—Ladies of the Woodman Circle.

Committee on arrangements and program: George Lehnardt, James Vance, E. Townsend, J. W. Heisler, O. W. Emery and A. L. Patmore.

The program will not be prepared before tomorrow but will be no more than regular speeches and music and the unveiling of the monuments.

FULTON ASSIGNMENT.

JULIUS FREDERICK TURNS OVER EVERYTHING TO CREDITORS.

Fulton, June 4.—Julius Frederick, a well known tailor of this place, has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, with H. T. Smith as assignee. The liabilities will reach $2,000, and the assets will not amount to much.

WILL REDUCE THE COST.

A meeting of the committee composed of Councilmen Potter, Johnson and Hammel, and Aldermen Barry, Boone and Longstaff was held yesterday afternoon late at the city hall with Mr. T. M. Orr, the right of way agent of the Illinois Central and it was agreed that the city allow the Illinois Central right of way over its post house property for $300 instead of $1,000, the amount first reported by the council. It seems that the entire property is not worth $1,000.

TO RAISE FUNDS.

There was a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. board last night with State Secretary H. E. Rosevear to devise plans for raising the remainder of the money needed to run the association the balance of the year, from the present until September, there being a slight shortage. The plans were arranged and Secretary Rosevear returned to Louisville this morning.

SMALLPOX AT MAYFIELD.

A child of Mrs. America Hill has smallpox at Mayfield and every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease. Mayfield has had no smallpox of consequence for sometime past.

Sore Hands

Red Rough Hands Itching Palms and Painful Finger Ends.

ONE NIGHT CURE.

SOAK the hands on retiring in a strong, hot, creamy lather of CUTICURA SOAP. Dry, and anoint freely with CUTICURA OINTMENT, the great skin cure and purifier of emollients. Wear, during the night, old, loose kid gloves, with the finger ends cut off and air holes cut in the palms. For red, rough, chapped hands, dry, fissured, itching, feverish palms, with shapeless nails and painful finger ends, this treatment is simply wonderful.

Millions of People

Use CUTICURA SOAP, assisted by CUTICURA OINTMENT, for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales, and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening, and soothing red, rough, and sore hands, for baby rashes, itches, and irritations, and for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. Millions of Women use CUTICURA SOAP in the form of baths for soothing inflammations, chafings, and excoriations, or too free or offensive perspiration, in the form of washes for ulcerative weaknesses, and for many sanative, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women.

COMPLETE HUMOUR CURE, St. Constipation of CUTICURA SOAP, to cleanse the bowels and scales, and to relieve the thickened cuticle, CUTICURA OINTMENT, (50c), to instantly allay itching, inflammation, and irritation, and soothe and heal; CUTICURA RESOLVENT PILLS (25c), the new chocolate coated substitute for liquid Resolvent, to cool and cleanse the blood. A NIGHT'S USE often sufficient to cure the severest case, especially of baby humors.

Reform on the Way in Russia. Student agitations in Russia are bearing fruit. It is freely predicted by progressive men in that empire that the country will have a constitutional form of government within the next two years. The czar and his ministers realize they must take the lead in making the reforms or undertake to resist them. To resist them means terrorizing the whole of the empire. A policy of repression in the present temper of the people might be extremely dangerous.

In political matters John Morley and Joseph Chamberlain are opposite as the poles, but have kept up a close personal friendship ever since the liberal split sixteen years ago. Not infrequently they drive to the house of commons together. Needless to say, they never discuss public affairs when by themselves.

FEATURES OF A TRUST COMPANY

A trust company can be your banker, receiving your deposits, which are subject to check; it can receive your securities or other properties, giving you a receipt therefor, and collecting the interest thereon; it can receive and hold property subject to the order of two or more persons, or to be delivered to another on fulfillment of certain conditions; it can be your general fiscal agent, to manage your property, both real and personal, making leases and attending to repairs, and collecting rents and interests for you; it can invest the property you have accumulated for your family in the safest, yet most profitable manner; act as guardian, agent trustee, assignee, receiver; your most valuable friend when you are alive, and your administrator or executor when you die.

It transacts a general banking business, receiving the accounts of individuals, corporations and merchants, and has the same facilities as the best of banks.

The Globe Banking and Trust Co., 306 Broadway, just open, is one of these institutions and from prospects will do a very prosperous business. They solicit your business.

MUNICIPAL HIGH-

WAY ROBBERY.

The last council report shows that the recent city tax levy will raise on the assessment of Paducah $165,434.55 taxes, which will be to maintain the city government from June 1, the time the preceding levy expired, to January 1, when another levy will have to be made under the second class charter. This means that the general council has made provision for raising $165,000, in round numbers, to run the city for six months and pay off the municipal debts.

Some idea of how outrageous this is may be obtained from the fact that the last year of the Business Men's Council, when considerable money had to be paid for sewerage, and several thousand dollars was spent for street machinery, the total amount for running the city for the entire year, including the money spent for the above additional expenses, was only $105,000.

This year, or the last six months of this year, we find the city council appropriating $165,000 for city and school purposes. Taking $27,000 of this for the schools, and allowing $8,000 for delinquents, which is large, we have left $130,000 of the taxes for city purposes. Adding to this the $40,000 that comes in from licenses and other sources, we find that the council has figured on spending $170,000 for city purposes alone for six months, as against the $105,000 the Business Men's Council made do the city for a whole year a little over four years ago.

It requires more to run Paducah now than it did then, as a matter of

ADVERTISING IS LET-

TING PEOPLE KNOW.

The problem of the advertiser is to attract attention—favorable attention, of course.

Soap may be for sale at five hundred groceries in the same city, yet it is entirely possible for one grocery to entirely outstrip every competition in sales for this one kind of soap through advertising alone.

He does so because he attracts public attention. People may have every reason in the world to think that the other four hundred and ninety-nine keep that soap, but they know that Mr. Advertiser keeps it. That's the difference.—Business Problems, Battle Creek, Mich.

course, but it does not require $65,000 more to run the city six months now, than it did to run it a whole year five years ago.

When the taxpayers see how they are being robbed, it is no wonder that some of them will refuse to pay their taxes but will first fight the levy in the courts.

The city has pending with the Illinois Central authorities a request for a lease or donation of its river front property for levee purposes. It desires the railroad to give it the use of the property, which is worth perhaps ten or twelve thousand dollars. Notwithstanding this request, it has the unmitigated gall to turn around and charge the railroad $500 simply to pass over the pest house property. It would take more money than that to induce most people to pass that near the pest house, without charging them for the permission.

The council has tabled the street sprinkling ordinance, but it is safe to predict that next year we shall have a system of street sprinkling, as the sentiment of the council seems to be in favor of the system. The cost will be but a few thousand dollars a year. This year the contracts for much of the sprinkling have been let by merchants and other citizens to private companies, and it is deemed better to wait until next year, to inaugurate the sprinkling system.

The committee of the general council has decided that $1,000 is too much to charge the Illinois Central for right of way over the pest house property. It is commendable in the committee to reconsider its intention of "gouging" the railroad. Even $500 is too much. It is enough for every farmer whose property is to be passed through to charge an exorbitant price, without a city like Paducah, which principally will be benefited by the road, doing it.

The long debate over the Philippine debate is over at last. The result is what was expected, and probably what it would have been if seven weeks had not been wasted in futile debate. The administration's policy in the Philippines is the only safe and honorable one that could be pursued, and it will be fully upheld by congress.

Mrs. Carrie Nation is loose again. She was stowed away in a Topeka jail May 18 to serve a month and pay a $100 fine, but the governor has pardoned her and ordered her released. It is supposed she will resume her favorite avocation of saloon smashing.

Memphis has a first class poisoning case on trial in one of the courts. It seems that the newspapers there are determined to convict Mrs. Hooks of killing her husband and a few others, whether she wants to be or not.

WITH ABDUCTION

YOUNG MAN TO BE PROSECUTED FOR MOCK MARRIAGE.

Hickman, Ky., June 4.—The case of Barkley will be given a preliminary hearing before County Judge Kearly today. Barkley is charged with abducting a young girl at Fulton, Ky., several months ago. He told her, it is charged, he had secured marriage license, persuaded her to marry him, and carried her before a supposed minister.

ELECTION AT JACKSON.

Jackson, June 4.—After the warmest campaign for years, the city election today resulted in the re-election of Mayor Hugh O. Anderson over R. S. Fletcher by 408 majority. M. B. Hunt was re-elected city recorder. The successful aldermen were: First ward, J. W. Vanden; Second, George Manuel, re-elected; Third, M. H. Taylor, re-elected; Fourth, C. E. Griffin, re-elected.

NEWARK AGAIN FIRE-SWEPT.

Bateville, June 4.—Fire destroyed a large portion of the town of Newark today. Three handsome brick business houses are in ruins. The losses are between $20,000 and $30,000. This is the fourth time in as many years the town has been fire-swept. It is thought to have been the work of an incendiary.

A PARTY WITHOUT PRINCIPLES.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

In spite of no lousier yearning and incessant skirmishing for an issue the Democratic party has made no progress in that direction. Everything it tries slips from its grasp after a short discussion. From present appearances it must fall back upon free trade, for nothing Democrats have ever done against trusts entitles their party to be taken seriously on that question. The Democratic difficulty may be illustrated by the case of Porto Rico. The island was supposed to be an important issue two years ago, and was the first special subject treated in the Democratic national platform of 1900. That plank is positively funny now, for no one thinks of quiet, contented, prosperous Porto Rico in connection with current politics. Yet the last Democratic platform denounced its treatment by a Republican congress as "a bold and open violation of the nation's organic law and a flagrant breach of the national good faith," which "dishonors the American people by repudiating a solemn pledge," and "dooms to poverty and distress a people whose helplessness appeals with peculiar force to our justice and magnanimity." Resounding words, and offered as menning something two years ago, but known today to be but rhetorical chaff.

In spite of vague, reactionary talk about the Philippines the Democratic party dares not come out squarely for the surrender of the sovereignty of the United States in the islands. Republicans would welcome that issue. The purpose of the people to keep the Philippines as part of our territory was sufficiently defined in the last presidential election, but if the Democrats want it thundered in louder tones they can easily be accommodated in 1904. Before advocating surrender they should read the speech of one of their own number, Senator Morgan of Alabama, delivered last Thursday. He gave full credit to the Republican position for justice, equity and correctness, and went so far as to say that he would definitely arrange to have the Philippines enter a regular territorial probation, with a view to eventual statehood. No Republican platform has yet taken so long a look into the future, but, as the Republicans of Ohio have just declared, "our title to the islands is as perfect as was that of Spain after nearly 400 years of undisputed possession," and, in short, "our flag is in the Philippines, and will there remain."

Inability to hold an issue should open the eyes of the Democratic party to an important fact. No issue presents itself because none that is practicable exists, to the proper restriction and regulation of trusts the Republican party has done more and will continue to do more than can be expected from a Democratic administration. Free trade alone remains as a distinctive issue, and it is not hard to foresee what choice the people will make when invited to cast aside the Dingley tariff with its era of unexampled prosperity and go back to the Wilson-Gorman period of business confusion and calamity. Abuse of the army is futile as well as disgraceful; charges of imperialism are stale and tedious; Democratic financial theories are a spent force; Cuba has been permitted to set up for itself according to promise; war taxes are about to vanish; the treasury is abundantly supplied; smooth by month the public debt is cut down; free trade is tottering in its British stronghold and the insurrection in the Philippines is substantially at an end. The best thing the Democratic party can do is to admit its hopeless division, recognize an era of good feeling, and take a rest.

RIVER BILL ADOPTED.

Washington, June 4.—Mr. Burton of Ohio called up the conference report upon the river and harbor bill in the house.

The report was adopted. As soon as signed by the presiding officers of each house it will go to the president.

The house then went into committee of the whole to consider the bill for the protection of the president of the United States and for other purposes—known as the anti-anarchist bill.

He also recommended that a four year course, elective, either business or English, be inaugurated in the high school. Another important suggestion was that the principal of the high school be made supervisor of the work in that school and that the assistant principal be appointed to fill his place as teacher.

Recommendations of changes in grades were also made and as a result there will probably be eighth grade at the Jefferson building next year instead of one at the Franklin building.

The report was received, filed and concurred in.

Mr. E. W. Lockmon was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. R. G. Terrell.

After a few unimportant actions the board adjourned.

GAINED NO POINT.

Nashville, June 4.—The strike which was inaugurated October 19, 1901, by the Plumbers, Gas, Steamfitters and Helpers' United Association No. 47 was declared off last night by that organization without having gained a single point demanded by them. This has been the longest struggle for shorter hours and better wages ever had in Nashville.

THE BOER PRISONERS.

London, June 4.—Replying to a question in the house of commons, the war secretary, Mr. Brodrick, said the total number of Boer prisoners in South Africa and elsewhere was 25,565, of which 783 were under 16 and 1,025 were over 60 years of age.

As Colonel and President. Every paper in the country approves the action of President Theodore Roosevelt in accepting the name of Col. Well, one thing, it gets hot.
So hot that we begin to see the means of keeping cool.
One of the very first things to do is to shoe the feet properly.
Look at those old high shoes you have on.
Why, of course you are warm!
What's the sense in wearing them when you can get a pair of comfortable-fitting, neat-looking, well-wearing low-cut shoes for $3.50?
Lay them aside for the rainy days of next November.
Come get a pair of our sensible summer shoes!
We have them at both prices.
$3.00 and $5.00.
Also have cheaper, and good, shoes. Shall tell you more about them, too. Wait a few days.

Mr. T. W. Watwood, of Bandana, is in the city to have an operation performed on one of his feet by Dr. J. E. Coyle. About twenty years ago he cut his foot while at work, and it healed and gave him no further trouble until a week or two ago, when it began to swell and run. It was cut open and several pieces of dead bone removed. It got worse a day or two ago, and Mr. Watwood is here to have it cut open again and the remainder taken out.

AN INVITATION.

A MEAN BOY

Attempted to Wreck a Switch Engine and Ran.

The Locomotive Was Derailed in a Cul Near Mechanicsburg.

Switch engine No. 737 jumped the track near the coal tipples in Mechanicsburg this morning and was badly derailed.

Some boy threw the switch just as the engine came into the cut, and it was too late for the engineer to stop the big engine. The boy ran away and could not be located this morning, but the engine crew will know him again if they see him, and will do all they can to catch him.

There are a great many mischievous boys in that locality, and this is one of their so-called pranks. If the boy is caught it will not go easy with him, the penalty for wrecking an engine or train being a severe one. No one was injured, but the company will suffer considerably by the loss of time and the service of the engine.

Officer Houser today arrested three men of Mechanicsburg on suspicion of having thrown the switch but as none of them were identified by the crew they were released. The officers are at work on the case and will find the guilty party if possible.

MEMPHIS IMPROVEMENTS

SUPR. HILLS OF THE N. C. AND ST. L. CONFERS WITH OTHER OFFICIALS.

Superintendent W. J. Hills, of Paducah, and Chief Engineer Hunter McDonald of Nashville, of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, conferred with Superintendent H. M. Pickinger and Chief Engineer C. B. Pardon of the Frisco at Memphis yesterday, regarding some contemplated improvements. They have in contemplation the removal of wood trestles and the substitution of iron structures at Memphis.

These improvements are merely in line with the improvements gradually being made by both railroads. Superintendent Hills has returned home.

EVERYTHING READY

THE CITY OF MEMPHIS HERE WAITING FOR THE OHIO DELEGATION.

The City of Memphis arrived here last night from St. Louis, and is lying at the wharf awaiting the arrival at 6 o'clock this evening of Governor Nash and party of Ohio, who are on their way to Shiloh National park. The party will be taken directly to the river from the depot.

KNOWN IN PADUCAH.

A Jackson, Tenn., dispatch of last night gives the following account of a wedding in which the bride is well known here:

Jackson, Tenn., June 4—Albert Milton Mass, of Memphis, and Miss Mattie Felsenthal of Jackson, were married at Temple B'nai B'rith tonight. Rabbi Samfield of Memphis, officiating. The bridal couple are members of prominent Jewish families of the two cities.

UNDERWOOD VS. CUNNINGHAM.

Nashville, June 4—The United States circuit court of appeals, convened at Grand Rapids, Mich., this morning from its regular place of sitting at Cincinnati, has reversed the decision of the court at Nashville in the case of John O. Underwood vs. S. A. Cunningham. Underwood was awarded $10,000 damages and today's decision gives the defendant a new trial. This is the trial growing out of a Confederate veteran publication some time ago.

COUNTY COURT.

Marshal Perkins, a colored carpenter of the city, aged 47, and Sarah Keelan of the city, aged 37, were this afternoon licensed to wed. It will make the second marriage of both.

WITH THE THEATERS.

Manager J. E. English of The Kentucky is pleased with the increase in business. Last night there was another large audience to witness the second presentation of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," and the performance gave universal satisfaction. Mr. James, who appeared in the title roles, received several curtain calls, and the entire company did well. The theatre was very comfortable. The lower exits were opened for the first time, and screens placed at them, and with the fans which will be installed tonight or tomorrow, the place will be the coolest in the city.

"The Ironmaster" will be presented the latter part of the week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and Monday night Mr. James' own play, of which he is the author, "Don't Give Up," will be given. The child part will be taken by Pearl May, the little 5-year-old daughter of Mr. L. Riley, the photographer, and will introduce to the people of Paducah new dramatic talent. Mr. James starred several years in the play, and promises the public something unusually good.

A medium sized audience was at La Belle park theatre last night and gave hearty evidences of being delighted with the performance. Baby Garna repeated her great success of the previous night, and Miss Haines, in her illustrated songs, was twice recalled. The vaudeville bill this week is unusually strong and attractive.

The last presentation of "Triss" by this company occurs tonight, and tomorrow night for the first time in our city the most successful comedy, "Why Jones Left Home," will be given. This play will be continued for three nights, and will also be the bill for the Saturday matinee.

Kelly's moving pictures are given as a free attraction every night preceding the performance at the theatre.

The dramatic papers announce that after this season the Wilbur Opera company will disband. Miss Munde Daniels, at present manager, will with Pauline Hall take out "Jack and the Beanstalk." It is possible that the opera company, which has been on the road for many years, will be re-organized and retain its name under new management.

The people of Paducah seem to have recovered from the carnival and are coming out to the shows in greater numbers than they were last week.

Next week two well known young Paducah men, Messrs. John Brooks and Ernie Tate, will do a specialty at The Kentucky, and promise something new and original.

Miss Florn May Clark, who was in "Quo Vadis" last season, will remain in Paducah until July, when she leaves for New York to take an engagement for next season.

Mr. Joe Everich of the Utterback bill posting agency went up the Louisville division of the Illinois Central this morning to advertise the big Pain's fireworks exhibition here the latter part of the month.

Mr. Howard Phillips and wife returned to Cairo this morning after a brief visit to relatives here.

Ship Pearls to Austria.

Edward T. Martner, one of the largest clam shell dealers on the upper Mississippi river, has made a contract with a manufacturing concern in Austria for a large supply of pearl button shells, which will be shipped to that country and made into fancy buttons and trinkets.

Several months ago, upon request, a number of samples were sent them with the result that the first shipment of sand shells and negro hends will be started next week. Mr. Martner also made several shipments to London last fall. Foreign manufacturers have ranked Mississippi shells higher than the salt water article and are now looking to the United States for a supply of raw material.

Lord Pym and Lady Paget

LORD PYM was an aristocratic democrat. His watchword was "social equality," and he talked angrily of the criminal selfishness of the governing classes. There was no end to his pedigree, and his income was magnificent. Lady Paget was an aristocrat, pure and simple.
She had no ideas about the democracy, except that it was dirty and despicable. She was annoyed with Lord Pym. Here was a man, young, good-looking and well educated, with estates as large as her own, and he must needs go about trumpeting out obnoxious doctrines and disgracing the whole class to which he—and she —belonged.

Lady Paget felt that, had Lord Pym been a reasonable man, she might have married him; indeed, she would have done it but it was impossible to marry a man who called himself a democrat and sat on the platforms beside creatures who had grimy finger nails and wore woollen "chokers."

Lord Pym admired Lady Paget.
He thought it a pity that so charming a woman should be so callous and narrow minded. If only she could be persuaded to see the beauty that was in the doctrine of "social equality," what a help she might be to him in his work—his life mission!
He knew how hopeless such a wish was, and he could do no more than sigh over it.

As the day was ending from a scorching afternoon to a delightful evening, Lord Pym met Lady Paget on the river bank, somewhere below Marlow.

"Strolling?" asked Lord Pym.
"I love it," replied her ladyship.
"Better than rowing?"
"Something."

"What do you say to a row now?"
he suggested.
"Where's the boat?" she asked.
"Why not hire one? I dare say I could find one that isn't likely to spring a leak."

"I don't like hired boats. The cushions are always dirty, and you don't know who has sat on them."
"Try not to think about it," he said, with a twinkle in his eye.
She made a little grimace. "Very well," she agreed.

They walked to a landing stage,
where there were a row of canoes and skiffs bobbing against the bank.
"That one looks safe—and fairly clean," he said, pointing to a smart boat, with new paint all over it.
"You don't think the color will come off onto my dress?" she questioned, dubiously.

"I guarantee you against damage," he assured her.

They stepped on board. She held the tiller lines and he pulled a vigorous oar.

"Don't you think it's better on the water than on the bank?" he said.

"Much," she replied, unhesitatingly.

Certainly Lord Pym was remarkably good looking, and there was
"breeding" in every line of his face and every bend of his body and there was an undeniable charm about his voice. How stupid of him to stuff his head full of such detestable nonsense! Lord Pym was thinking that Lady Paget was the prettiest woman between Reading and Gravesend.

"I shall be busy next week," he said.

"Politeness?" she replied, pulling her mouth down at the corners.

"The elections," he reminded her.

"Oh, yes; how exciting! You are canvassing, I suppose? What sort of clothes do you wear when you go canvassing? Corduroys? I have heard that those people stone a decent hat whenever they see one—which isn't often, I suppose."

Lord Pym laughed. "I'm afraid you're incorrigible. You'll never understand anything about the people while you regard them in that way."

"Thank goodness!" said Lady Paget, devoutly, dipping her hand into the water.

"Why," he asked, with a note of petulance in his voice, "Why is it better to be ignorant? Ignorance on any subject cannot be a virtue."

"Perhaps not," she retorted; "but it can be very pleasant."

For a few minutes he rowed in silence.

Lady Paget steered the boat towards a little wooded island.

Suddenly she asked: "Do you know Mr. Stempenny?"

CANCEROUS ULCERS

develop sometimes from very trifling causes, and when and where you would least expect them. A boil, or abscess, burn, blister, wart, tumor, mole, or the simplest little pimple may be the beginning point of a malignant, frightful looking Cancerous Ulcer.

Apparently there is no difference between a Cancerous and Common Ulcer when they first make their appearance, and for this reason every ulcer, no matter how insignificant or harmless it may seem, and all slow healing sores should excite suspicion and cause alarm, particularly if any of your ancestors ever had Cancer, or you have good reason to think your blood is impure; for the sore, after all, is only the outgrowth, the external evidence of polluted blood, and nothing can check its progress until the cancer tainted, vitiated blood has been purified. All efforts to heal the ulcer by means of salves or other external remedies will result in failure, for such treatment can have no possible effect upon the deadly germs and morbid matter that form in the blood and are carried through the circulation to the sore.

MOTHER, TWO AUNTS, AND ONLY SISTER DIED OF CANCER OF THE BREAST.

I had a Cancer on my left breast, which caused me great pain for three or four years. At times the pains were deep and shooting. The ulcer discharged yellow and rather offensive matter. I had given up
all hope, as the doctors
gave me no relief.
My mother, two aunts and an only sister died of Cancer of the breast, and I am satisfied that I, too,
would have been gone
but for S. S. S. I felt some better after the first bottle, and after using only seven bottles, was cured. This was several years ago but have seen no signs of the Cancer since. I would urge all who are suffering from the disease to give S. S. S. a trial.
Belton, Mo. MRS. JAMES CASSELL.

A SMALL SORE CAME ON THE INSIDE OF HIS LIP.

About the first of February, 1899, I noticed a small lump on the inside of my lower lip. It annoyed me considerably;
the doctor cauterized it and in a few days
it dropped off, but shortly after another came and broke into an open sore, and in spite of the large number of remedies I tried, it would not heal. I then went to nooter, and he gave me something to put on the sore, saying if it did not cure he would cut the sore out. I used his medicine, but received no benefit. I decided a blood purifier was what I needed, and began to take S. S. S. The ulcer was growing rapidly, with some pain and a crawling, creeping feeling. At first S. S. S. seemed to make the sore worse, but this soon changed, and after I had taken seven bottles the place healed entirely;
my general health improved and I am as well now as ever and no signs of the disease have been seen since.
Hollands, S. C. W. P. BROWN.

WOULD SCAB OVER, BUT NOT HEAL.

Mr. Jno. Massie, Owensboro, Ky., writes:
"About three years ago a blister came on the right side of my nose. It grew steadily in spite of efforts to heal it up; the pain was not very severe at first, but increased when the sore began to inflame and discharge matter. At times the place would scab over and appear to be getting well,
but the scab would drop off, leaving a red, angry looking ulcer. I had almost despaired of ever curing the Cancer when my attention was called to S. S. S., and after taking a few bottles the Cancer began to gradually grow smaller, the discharge stopped, and I was relieved of the terrible disease."

Cancerous Ulcers can be reached only by a remedy that acts upon and through the blood system, and this is just what S. S. S. does. It goes to the fountain head of the disease, and drives out the germ producing poisons which cause the ulcer, and purifies and builds up again the deteriorated blood. This is the only true and logical treatment for sores of this character.

SSS

By the use of S. S. S. the ulcer is supplied with pure, strong blood, which quickly allays the inflammation and forces out all the irritating poisons, and allows the sore to heal naturally and permanently. S. S. S. acts also as a tonic, and where the constitution has become debilitated and weakened, it restores vitality and strengthens the nervous system, and helps the appetite and digestion. S. S. S. contains no Mercury, Potash or other minerals, but is guaranteed purely vegetable.

Those having a chronic ulcer or sore of any kind that is slow in healing, whether located upon the body or internally, will receive medical advice and such special information as they desire free of cost. Book on Cancer and Other Diseases of the Blood sent free.

Madame Rosa Marliani

Rosa Marliani President of French Singers' Association of Chicago.

is the case of Mrs. Susan Lee, of Demopolis, Ala., who suffered nine years and was cured by taking Wine of Cardui. She writes:

"I have been sick for nine years and was not able to do my housework for over five years. Since I have been using your remedies I have been able to work. I have only used three bottles of Wine of Cardui and a package of Thedford's Black-Draught. I can do almost as much work now as I ever did. I cannot say enough about your medicine. I will come to the fact—I am feeling almost young again."

After reading the letters of Madame Marliani and Mrs. Lee, the only reasonable thing for an afflicted woman to do is to go to her druggist and secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui and begin the treatment at once. You can begin the treatment today in the privacy of your home. The change for the better will begin within a week. The Wine strengthens the weakest link first. Naturally that is where no improvement would be most noticeable.

Do not go on suffering for years like Madame Marliani and Mrs. Lee. Those anxious years are gone—lost when they should have been enjoyed in health. Every day you hesitate is lost and gives to useless suffering another day of your life. If you need advice write The Ladies' Advisory Department, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn. Describe your symptoms as fully as possible and a free letter of advice will be sent you. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

WINE OF CARDUI

Women who have suffered and are now cured know how great a remedy this is.

President Born No Malice.
When Theodore Roosevelt was a member of the civil service commission W. W. Bowers, then a congressman from California, had some trouble with the commission, and in an interview referred to Mr. Roosevelt as a "faker." Mr. Bowers was made collector of San Diego by President McKinley and has been reappointed by President Roosevelt who remarked when reminded of the interview: "I shall reappoint Mr. Bowers. He is a good official. His personal opinions of me twelve years ago have nothing to do with the case."

marry him."
Lord Pym stared at her. "Asked you to marry him?" he said, incredulously. "How?"
"Oh, in the usual way," replied Lady Paget. "He said that he loved me first; and then asked me if I'd marry him."
"And what did you say?" he demanded, eagerly.
"I said that I'd think about it."
"Think about it! But, surely, you haven't any doubt?"
"You think I ought to have accepted him at once, because he's such a splendid, earnest fellow?"
"No; I mean surely you don't think of marrying him!"
"Why not?"
"Why not? Why, it's absurd."
"Don't you like him?"
"Yes, I like him. I told you he's a splendid fellow. But you could never marry him!"
"Aren't I good enough for him?"
"Good enough for him! Don't talk nonsense!"
Lord Pym was so excited that his rowing was of the most disordered kind. Lady Paget kept the boat's head well in the direction of the little island.
"Where did you meet him?" he asked.
"In London," she replied, carelessly.
"Yes; but where? London means nothing." He was ferociously in earnest.
"Oh, I forget. At a garden party, I think."
"How on earth did he manage to be at a garden party where you were?" he demanded.
"I don't know. He was invited, I suppose."
"And you mean to say you think of marrying him?"
"Well, I don't exactly say I think of marrying him. He asked me if I would, and I said I'd think about it. That isn't exactly the same thing as thinking of marrying him."
"No; but I can't imagine how you ever came to make such a promise as that to him."
"Surely a woman can think a thing over! She can't be expected to make up her mind on a matter of that sort all on the instant."
"The insolent heggari!" ejaculated Lord Pym, giving a pull at the oar that nearly sent the boat crashing into the little island.
"Why?" asked Lady Paget, trying to conceal a dimple on either cheek.
"That fellow, Stempenny!" replied Lord Pym, savagely.
They ran the boat under the shadow of the little island.
"But he's a splendid, earnest fellow," Lady Paget reminded him.
"Yes, in his right place," snapped Lord Pym.
"And you think that isn't at garden parties?"
"Garden parties! No!"
"But he behaved himself very well—considering," said Lady Paget, with the dimples growing deeper.
"Anybody can see that he's not a gentleman," retorted Lord Pym, hotly.
"Do you want to drive me to quotations about 'kind hearts' and 'coronets'?"
Lord Pym uttered an inarticulate exclamation of disgust. "What do you mean that he's not a gentleman?" she went on.
"I should have thought that you would have kept that he was not a gentleman," replied his lordship. "He's an insolent upstart, and he deserves a thrashing for daring to offer marriage to a woman of your position!"
"Or simple faith than Norman blood," murmured Lady Paget.
"Simple faith! Confounded impudence!"
"You seem very upset about it," she said.
Lord Pym did not reply. He stared at Lady Paget's hand, dangling in the water.
"What are you going to do?" he said, at length.
"Think it over."
"What nonsense!"
"I don't see that it's nonsense at all."
"Not nonsense when Lady Violet Paget, the prettiest and one of the richest women in England, thinks about marrying Mr. Thomas Stempenny, who was brought up as a working child mucker! Not nonsense!"
"What do you suggest?" she asked, quietly, as one in need of advice.
"Sending him about his business," Lady Paget mused, with her eyes fixed on a rabbit that was staring back at her from the island.
Lord Pym suddenly made up his mind. "Violet," he said, "if I asked you to marry me, would you think it over a little while?"
"I don't think I should need to," replied Lady Paget.
"But you were thinking Stempenny over," he reminded her, suspiciously.
"Not really," she assured him.
"But you must have been, or you wouldn't have asked my advice."
"I only wanted to hear what you would say. I wished to have the opinion of a friend of his."
"Friend!" he echoed, scornfully.
"Comrade," she corrected, using the democratic catchword.

He laughed. "And you don't need to think me over?" he said.
"No," replied Lady Paget, dragging out the word, as if in doubt, and eyeing him critically from head to foot.
"It's a strange thing to find out that I've loved you all the time, without knowing it," he said.
"Isn't it?" she agreed.
"Let's tie the boat up and go for a little walk on the island," he suggested.
He helped her to land, and they wandered away amongst the brushwood, until they were out of sight.

Lady Paget hopes that Lord Pym will not say anything to Mr. Stempenny about his "upstart insolence," because he might learn that the democratic north never desired the aristocratic able to reform her husband completely, from her point of view.—L. W., in Lady's Pictorial.

The Minstrel's Luck.

"It is strange," said the first citizen, "that many of the old minstrels are dying in want."
"Indeed, yes," answered the second citizen. "If they only could make a dollar go as far and last as long as they do in joke they would roll in wealth after one season."—Baltimore American.

PORTO RICO'S GREAT ROAD

Splendid Highway Between Ponce and San Juan That Is Kept in Constant Repair.

John T. Dallas, superintendent of the Red D line of steamships, is a prominent member of the Inhabitable club. He recently returned from Porto Rico, where he had gone to superintend the arrangements for transporting 310 soldiers of the Eleventh United States Infantry on the Minracabo, to Newport News, Va., en route to Manila. He is enthusiastic in his praise of the behavior of the men while on the ship. They were well taken care of, well fed, well housed.

Mr. Dallas is a veteran of the civil war, and a member of U. S. Grant post. Speaking of Porto Rico generally he said to a Brooklyn Eagle reporter:

"It is a beautiful island and the scenery is splendid. I crossed the island on the military road between Ponce and San Juan. This is a splendid highway, which rises at one point 2,700 feet above the level of the sea. There are stations every five or six miles along the route, where the men in charge of the road live and keep their implements. As soon as a weed appears on this road it is cut down. It is a magnificent road and its care would give points to some of our own engineers. It crosses innumerable ravines, over each of which is built a solid stone bridge. I think that near the summit the road crosses a dozen of these in a single mile.

"What means of transport had I? I took an automobile, but the road was too much for the machine and the boiler burst. Then I had to charter a coach drawn by native ponies. The original fare agreed on was eight dollars, but it came to about $15 before I finished. Automobiles may be all right here, but they are not the thing for Porto Rico just yet.

"There is a great need for good American hotels on the island. The changes are high enough to satisfy the most extravagant, but I cannot say so much for the results, either in the way of food or accommodation.

"The weather was not excessively warm, and near the summit of the military road I appreciated the judgment of the host who placed a folded blanket on my bed at night. All the same, if you go rushing around in the daytime you are likely to become uncomfortably warm. It is better to follow the example of the natives and take things easy during the middle of the day. But on the whole, Porto Rico is a beautiful and picturesque island that is well worth visiting."

Philippine Women Smoke Cigarettes.
A returned St. Paul soldier, who has served three years in the Philippines, says that in that country the women smoke a great deal, but instead of using cigarettes, they smoke long black cigars that last five or six hours. No wonder they have a well smoked appearance.

In the Light.
It's a great old world; the winters are chill, but the springtime—It comes round.
And the warm sun whispers secrets in the seed that's in the ground;
And though some seasons are weary, there's hope when the storms are past,
And we'll enter a fairer country and rest in the light at last.

We'll rest in the light at last—in the beautiful, later light;
We shall kiss our hands to sorrow and whisper a last good night;
And storm and strife will be memories that soon shall melt away
In that light of a beautiful morning—the light of the later day!

AT "THE KENTUCKY."

The Kentucky has been turned into a palm garden and is truly "a thing of beauty and a joy forever." The big electric fans are now in and "meet me under the shade of the palms at The Kentucky" has become the fad.

"The hotter the weather the cooler the theatre," so says Mr. English. And this is really the case. On all sides last night were heard exclamations of delight as the large audience gathered to again see another great performance of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," at the beautiful cool appearance of The Kentucky. All the foyer and lobby has been turned into a beautiful palm garden, and all doors have been removed and the nineteen exits have become tunnels of fresh, pure air, only partially covered by cloth screens and but add to the beauty of the already beautiful playhouse.

And tonight what a pleasant surprise awaits The Kentucky's many patrons! Thirty big electric, noiseless, ceiling fans wafting their life-giving breezes through the palms, and the easy, comfortable cushioned chairs inviting repose, the entire air of The Kentucky suggesting nothing but refinement, pleasure and comfort.

The English Stock company truly deserves all the good fortune that is being showered on it, for nowhere can be found such enterprise, liberality and thoughtfulness for patrons. The general public has no idea of the many seeming unsurmountable obstructions that appeared when this now successful enterprise was launched and the many things that were done to discourage the manager, but all have been overcome and while it has taken time, and loss of money and more and grit, it is now a permanent thing and here to the point of most successful enterprise. All Paducah can point with pride to The Kentucky and The English Stock Co. It will truly be the popular fad to "meet me under the shade of the palms at The Kentucky."

Tonight Miss Alma C. Hays will sing for the first time a song of much local interest, "The Song of My Mother," words by Judge W. D. Greer, music by Mr. Charles M. Davis, and dedicated to Rev. Mr. Cave, all of Paducah. A cordial invitation is extended to all ministers of the city regardless of their denomination, to attend tonight, as the guest of Mr. English and all that is necessary is to call at the box office at The Kentucky and present their card and they will be well taken care of.

NO APPEAL PROBABLE.

THE JUDGMENT AGAINST THE CITY WILL LIKELY BE PAID.

It is probable that the judgment against the City of Paducah in favor of William Patterson for about $8,000 on the brick street contract will be paid by the city without further contest. This has not yet been definitely decided, but it is understood that the mayor and several members of the general council have met and decided that this is the most advisable thing to do. One member stated that the longer the case was fought the larger would be the attorney's fees against the city, and that they saw no prospect of beating it in the courts.

CIRCUIT COURT.

TODAY'S SESSION WAS VERY BRIEF—MOTIONS OVER- RULED.

Thomas P. Glynn and others were given a judgment to sell property against William Lydon and others.

The case of Frank P. Mitchell against the Paducah Coal and Mining Co., was dismissed. Mitchell was injured in an accident at the company elevator several months ago.

The motions for new trials in the following cases were overruled: Charles Hills against the Paducah Veneer and Lumber Co.; John Hill against the Paducah Veneer and Lumber Co.; and Mayes against Lane.

Court adjourned shortly before noon for the day having finished all motions set for today.

The case of Vernon Blawie against the Paducah Coal and Mining Co. has been transferred by Judge H. H. Smith to the Marshall circuit court. It was for damages for being cut by the defendant, and a verdict for $250 was at a former trial secured.

RETURNS TO MARSHALL

MR. RUFUS STORY TO GO INTO THE POULTRY BUSINESS.

Mr. Rufus Story, of Norton street near Fifth, has sold his home and leaves in a few days for Little Cypress, Marshall county, to go into the poultry business. He has resided in Paducah for many years, and has been employed by Rehkopf and Co. Little Cypress was his former home, and he is expected to do well there. His many friends in Paducah will regret to learn of his contemplated departure.

TO OUR LAUNDRY PATRONS:

We, the undersigned, American laundymen of Paducah, owing to the increase of materials, help, and the rapid enlargement of accounts and the difficult way of keeping them to the satisfaction of our patrons as well as ourselves, and the mutual annoyances in making collections, find it necessary to adopt a new system of dealing with our patrons, viz: to do a strictly CASH business. Therefore, on and after June 9, 1902, all packages of laundry must be paid for when delivered; and for the convenience of our customers and to make collections mutually pleasant, we will issue COUPON BOOKS at a valuation of $1.00, $2.00, $3.00 and $5.00, which may be had at our offices, or from our drivers, at a discount of 5 per cent. These books can be left at home and when the bundles are delivered the proper amount can be detached in settlement for the accounts, just as bread and milk tickets are now used and with the same satisfaction. So far as many of our patrons are concerned we regret to be obliged to adopt this plan, but as we cannot discriminate, we trust all will appreciate our position and this announcement. We feel assured that this will be the case.
